OVER THE WORLD IN A WEEK.

—A strange freak of lightning was witnessed by a number of people at Pottsville, Pa., recently. A ball of fire struck a brick house owned by Charles Bower, and went down into the earth to a distance of thirty feet. It followed the foundation and came out of the ground directly under a bucket which was standing at the other side of the house. The bucket was broken to pieces but the house was not damaged.

—New York had a terrible case of hydrophobia the other day, where the patient foamed at the mouth, struggled like a lunatic and barked like a dog. And yet to the surprise and disgust of his physicians, he recovered. But, now that we think of it, hydrophobia, which means hatred of water, often leads up to jim-jams.

—When Mrs. Sam Smythe, of Waveland, Ind., awoke the other morning, she was horrified to find the dead body of her husband lying by her side. He had burst a blood vessel and died from internal hemorrhage while she slept.

—Joseph Hamber, a slater from Chicago, while at work roofing a tower at Lawrenceburg, Ind., fell a distance of fifty-five feet. He was picked up for dead, but in a short time recovered and said he was not seriously hurt.

—John Hawk, a young farmer living about four miles east of South Charleston, Ohio, tried to chop a squirrel out of a tree. The hatchet slipped, almost severing his leg at the knee. He will probably be a cripple for life.

—While Grant Adams and Henry Walaman were engaged in a drunken fight at Wellston, Ohio, the latter struck Adams with a brick, fracturing his skull and knocking out his left eye. He can not recover.

—John Sewald, who surrendered himself at Sacramento four months ago, stating he had murdered two wives in Nebraska, has been released by the authorities, eastern officials having taken no action.

—Near Laporte, Ind., G. W. Keithline, while drunk, abused Harry Lewis, a farm hand employed by his father. Lewis stabbed his assailant with a pocket knife, inflicting a serious wound.

—Officer Rollings, of Philadelphia, is said to be the largest policeman in the United States. He is six feet eight inches in height and weighs 340 pounds.

—At Milton, Ind., Tom Dodd was shot and seriously wounded by Oliver John, bartender in a saloon, in resisting an assault made by Dodd and a brother.

—The ninth annual reunion of the Confederate soldiers of Missouri was held at Kansas City. Three thousand men who wore the gray were in attendance.

—At Kane, Pa., an engineer and fireman were killed by a collision with a freight car which two unknown men caused to run down a steep grade.

—George Meyers, aged 8, of South Charleston, Ohio, swallowed a couple of pins, and, although they were extracted, he is in a dangerous condition.

—Josep Thun, of Cincinnati, was fined $10 and costs for cruelty to animals in saturating a rat with coal oil and cremating it.

—Frank Gammon, a colored man of Knoxville, Tenn., was bitten by a pet rattlesnake and died in a few hours.

—Gus Drahan, once a prominent politician of Cincinnati, Ohio, was found dead in a cheap lodging house.

—Thomas Scruggs, of Jeffersonville, Ind., who disappeared ten years ago, returned unexpectedly.

—The peach crop of Delaware is so plentiful that the surplus is being fed to the hogs.

—At Anderson, Ind., Ben Bass, an amateur, ran one hundred yards in 11 1/2 seconds.

—South Dakota's wheat crop this year will be 51,000,000 bushels off 2,920,000 acres.

—The city of St. Louis now owns her Zoological Gardens.

STATE SUNSHINE AND SHADOW.

WINCHESTER is the only town that enforces the minor cigarette law.

HART county is suffering from an organized band of smoke-house thieves.

A LADY of Carroll county sold last year from two cows 309 1/2 pounds of butter.

NEAR Owensboro, B. Hazelwood shot and killed John Fitts as a result of an old quarrel.

THE police judge of Crab Orchard called the town marshal a liar, and was shot down in return.

W. R. O'MALLEY, a saloon keeper of Middlesborough, was fatally stabbed by David Worthington.

THE iron furnaces at Middlesborough made a trial of machinery on August 20 with more than satisfactory results.

A BRICK fell four stories square on top of a Paducah negro's head. The negro took a drink and went to work again.

It is said that Gov. Buckner will remove to his old homestead in Hart county as soon as his term of office expires.

LEXINGTON will have a big dog show next month. Dogs to the number of 1,000 from all parts of the world will be on exhibition.

IN the trial of Richard Gentry for the killing of John B. Sandifer, at Lancaster, in July, the Jury returned a verdict of not guilty.

S. T. BICKFORD, proprietor of the Park Place Hotel, at Middlesborough, has absconded, leaving debts to the amount of $2,000.

CENTRAL City has a town ordinance against selling liquor. Del Vick sold in violation of it and was fined $90 in one case and $60 in another.

WHILE bathing in Dix river, James Harvey Brown, a prominent lawyer of Lancaster, was taken with cramps. He was rescued, but died soon after.

THE ex-Confederate soldiers of Owensboro are making great preparations for the annual reunion of the "Orphan Brigade" at that place September 9.

THE American wheel company, having a plant in Louisville and other cities, has failed, $4,100,000 assets; liabilities, $1,800,000. Dull times the cause.

PENDLETON county's record has another man's blood added to her list. James Blatchford was shot from ambush by one supposed to be Dennis Finn and his two sons.

GEORGE W. READ, a prominent citizen of Glasgow, and formerly city marshal, died last week from the result of wounds received in 1880 while attempting to arrest some drunken negroes.

THE Secretary of the Interior has issued a warrant to the Governor of Kentucky on the United States treasury for the sum of $16,000 for the second payment for the agricultural school fund.

DURING a thunderstorm one night last week, the house of James Devine, at Nicholasville, was struck by lightning and set on fire. The family was badly shocked, and Devine was so stunned that he was barely able to escape.

A GREAT peach growing belt is found in Hardin county, on the range called Muldraugh's hill. Here, stretching back into the country, is found orchard after orchard, and every road goes past acres and acres of peach trees fairly weighted down with some of the finest peaches in the country, so buyers say.

THE south end of Funk & Anderson's new flouring mill, at Danville, in which was stored in flour bins 8,000 bushels of wheat and several hundred bushels of shelled corn, gave way, precipitating the contents into the street. A colored man named Ben Pellman, who, with a spring wagon, was waiting for some flour, was buried in the grain and badly injured. The wagon was broken beyond repairs.

At Cornishville, Mercer county, Sylvester Huffman, a young farmer, was playing with some children who had a jumping rope in their hands. He caught hold with one hand, with an open knife in the other. The children began to pull at the rope, but Huffman was too strong for them, and pulled it from their hands. In doing so he fell, the knife in his hand entering the abdomen, cutting a large hole, from which his intestines protruded. He died of his injuries.
